Discover GILBERT ARIZONA

BEST OF GILBERT

ON BIKE, TRIKE, OR TANDEM!

Bicycling is the perfect activity for imperfect times: It's great exercise, physical distancing is a natural, and it gets you (and the kids!) out of the house. Along the safe, extensive bike trails in Gilbert, you can spot migrating birds at riparian preserves, sample Gilbert's world-class goodies in the Heritage District, and relax after your ride on the patio of a brewpub. Buckle up your bike helmet and go!

NO BIKE? NO PROBLEM. WE GOT YOU COVERED.

VENICE MEETS ARIZONA

Before there was a Gilbert, there were canals—designed and dug during the late 1800s to bring water to a dry valley. Since the 1980s, when we added bike paths to the canal, they've also attracted a growing and active population. Now they provide access to outdoor adventure, through a series of canal-based bike paths that have made Gilbert a “bike-friendly community.” The Eastern Canal bike path safely connects south and north Gilbert, and runs past many of the city’s best parks, eateries, and attractions. Care to join us for a ride by the waterfront? It’s pedal power at its best.
